

As a listener of KLOVE radio I am distressed to know that any initiative that would discontinue the positive message of KLOVE would be considered. KLOVE is a positive force in EVERY community it serves, mine included. And, in a world where we are inundated with negative messages from every possible angle, a positive message is not only a breath of fresh air but an absolute must for the sanctity of its listeners. Ultimately, the loss of a force as positive as KLOVE would be a devastating loss to the millions who hear a message of hope and encouragement day after day.

In closing, we experience enough hate and anger in this world, don't take-away one of the very few media outlets that share a message of hope and love.
